A COMPLETE EXPERIENCE.

Large-scale installations require planning, logistics and staging experts to ensure an experience that aligns with your goals. One wrong turn or forgotten bolt can mean headaches, delays or worse. Attention to detail and peace of mind are hallmarks of working with Xibita.

Our experienced coordinators spot potential problems before they arise, and calmly handle any “surprises” to ensure a smooth transition from concept to delivery, setup and polish. This means that Xibita trade show clients need only arrive at their booth close to show time.

BUILDING MOMENTUM

By the time you arrive at a business conference, your focus needs to be on networking opportunities and business objectives. That's why Xibita has established a network of installation and dismantling professionals who work to ensure your booth is ready to wow attendees from the moment the first trade show badge is handed out until the final closing announcement. Then we take equal care to dismantle, pack and ship your display to its next destination, so you're ready to wow your next audience.

SHOW SERVICES

BEYOND YOUR FIRST EXHIBIT

While a tremendous amount of attention goes into creating, and delivering the ideal booth, people often forget to consider what comes next. The support team at Xibita takes great pride in helping clients maximize the value of their displays by considering their long-term storage needs.

We offer turnkey storage solutions that factor in the number of destinations, proximity between stops, and the amount of downtime in order to find the best place—or places—to store your exhibit over its entire lifespan.

Is storage accurately factored into your cost of ownership?

MOVING FORWARD

Business is built on momentum. Working with an end-to-end solution provider like Xibita ensures that your booth arrives where it needs to be, when it needs to be there. Our experienced logistics team understands the complex issues you'll face at each event—and delivers an on-the-ground presence to help you transition and move forward. We also inspect each item as it's packed for the next destination so you're ready to roll upon arrival.

Is your exhibit plan built for the long haul?

IMAGE IS EVERYTHING

Xibita brings together a wealth of graphic production capabilities — from simple wall coverings to stunning multi-dimensional elements. We are one of the few companies that combine large-format, high-resolution printing services with in-house wood and metal fabrication capabilities.

Because of this, Xibita has the ability to not only build the structure, but also integrate key messaging within it in unique and ownable ways. This includes outdoor signage, 3D messaging, wall graphics, and banner stands.

How important are graphics to your exhibit?

YOU HAVE CHOICES. MAKE XIBITA YOURS.

Our people our process and our passion help us create lasting relationships that are built on engagement, ingenuity and collaboration. We invite you to put us to the test.
